

The new voice answering the phones belongs to Liz Harvey. She joined Pace Medical Staffing at the beginning of July and is quickly learning all the ins and outs of recruiting. She comes to us from the Seattle area, relocating to Bend and the surrounding areas. Her background includes technical recruiting in Seattle and the surrounding areas. Her home life includes a husband, teenage son, two dogs (a Golden Retriever and a Yorkshire Terrier) and a barn cat that came with the purchase of the house.

Liz will also be taking over Contracts. We've had numerous contracts come open for nurses in Oregon and Washington State. As a reminder, if you're interested in working in Washington, you'll need your Washington license prior to applying. Current contract openings include nurses experienced with cancer patients, a circulating RN and even an Occupational Therapist. Contracts normally run anywhere from 4 to 13 weeks and are occasionally extended or even renewed.

PACE MEDICAL STAFFING

Travel with Pace!

Do you want to travel? Maybe you're looking for a change of scenery? If you already have your Washington license, or are in the process of getting it, listen up.

We have a new client in Washington State looking for RN's and LPN's. Why not take a mini vacation on us. We will pay you mileage, set you up with a place to stay and handle all employment related logistics. You work a few shifts and spend your off time relaxing and enjoying the surrounding area. Let us know if you're interested and we'll add your name to our list of Washington candidates.

Pace Staffing has also acquired a major client in Central Oregon that will be looking for personnel. We will have per diem and contract shifts available at both locations. The "Per diem" status offers a lot of flexibility - you work when it's convenient for you. Work as little as one day in one location, or as long as couple of months. Whatever fits your schedule. Partial drawback to "Per Diem" is that often the timeframe for our notice varies from 4 hours to a month, however this explains why we need your most up to date availability, and why we ask you give us an update on your schedule on a monthly basis.

Looking for a long term contract? We have several contracts available for Specialty RN's, Physical Therapists, and Occupational Therapists from 4, 8 or 13 weeks.

Remember, telling your friend and co-workers about Pace Medical Staffing could earn you a referral bonus.

Wearing Gloves

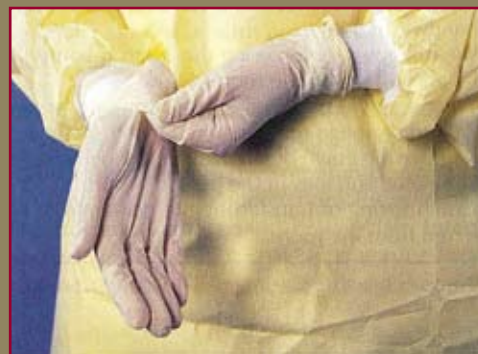

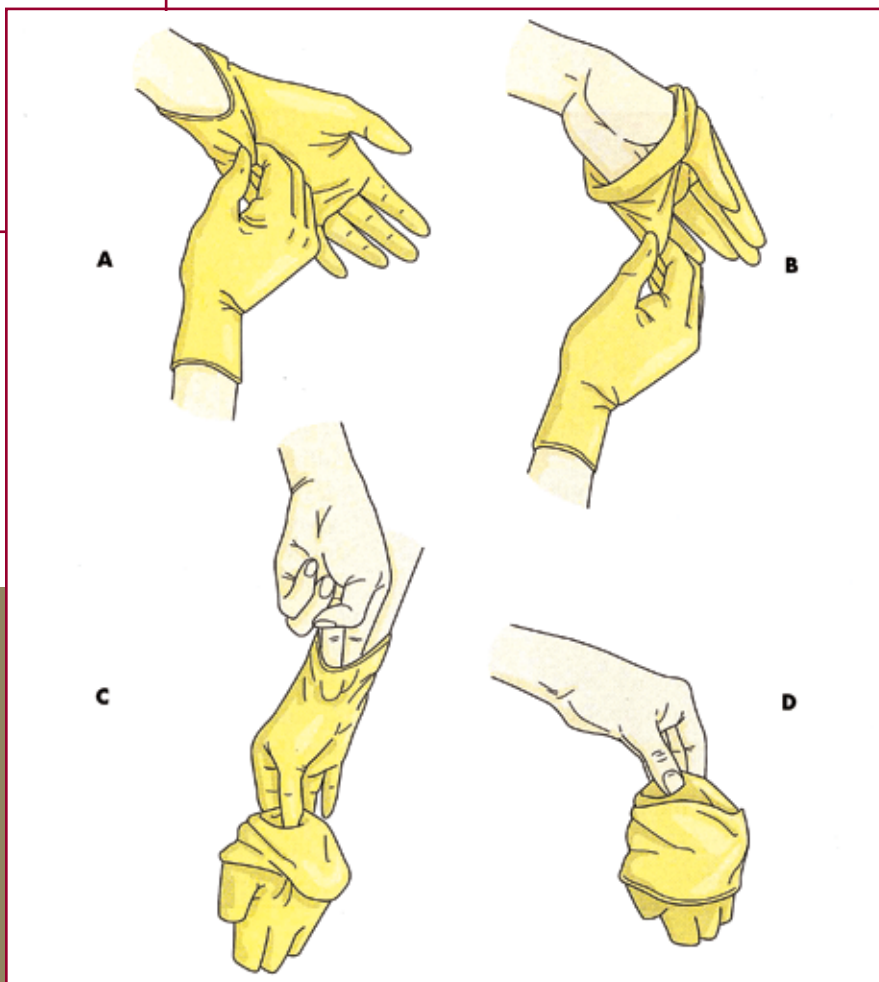

The skin is a natural barrier. It prevents microbes from entering the body. Small skin breaks on the hands and fingers are common. Some are very small and hard to see. Disposable gloves give added protection. They protect you from pathogens in the person's blood, body fluids, secretions, and excretions. They also protect the person from microbes on your hands.

Wear gloves whenever contact with blood, body fluids, secretions, excretions, mucous membranes and non-intact skin is likely. Contact may be direct or contact may be with items or surfaces contaminated with blood, body fluids, secretions, or excretions.

Do not tear gloves when putting them on. Carelessness, long fingernails, and rings can tear gloves. Blood, body fluids, secretions, and excretions can enter the glove through the tear. This contaminates the hand. Remember the following about wearing gloves:

- Gloves are easier to put on when your hands are dry.
- You need a new pair for every person.
- Remove and discard torn, cut, or punctured gloves immediately. Wash your hands, and put on a new pair.
- Wear gloves only once. Discard them after use.
- Put on clean gloves just before touching mucous membranes or non-intact skin.

- Put on new gloves whenever gloves become contaminated with blood, body fluids, secretions, or excretions. You may need more than one pair of gloves for a task.
- Make sure gloves cover your wrists. If you wear a gown, gloves must cover the cuffs (Fig. 10-14).
- Remove gloves so the inside part is on the outside. The inside is considered clean.
- Wash your hands after removing gloves.
